

Your Wedding or Civil Partnership in the Fair Maid's House

Hold your wedding or civil partnership ceremony in the delightful surroundings of the Fair Maid's House, the oldest secular building in Perth, dating from the 14th century.

A Romantic History

The Fair Maid's House is so called because of its connection with Sir Walter Scott's novel, The Fair Maid of Perth. Set in Perth around 1400, this story, also known as St Valentine's Day, tells of the epic romance between Catharine Glover and Henry Gow, set against a background of royal intrigue and highland feuding.

Your Special Day

The Fair Maid's House offers:

- a special place, approved by Perth & Kinross Council for civil ceremonies;
- a unique venue for a small reception, with space for 30-50 standing guests;
- plentiful parking within a two-minute walk.

Our Explorers' Room provides a stylish and intimate venue for you to exchange vows. The room is in the style of a traditional study filled with books; you will be surrounded by stories of travel, exploration and adventure, the perfect place from which to start your journey.

Guests can mingle in a variety of small rooms, from the atmospheric Earth Room with its stunning illuminated globe, to the light and airy Reception Room and Education Room.
